Appellant.)	Filed: February 28, 2017

Monica Banks (“Defendant”) appeals her conviction of one count of forgery in violation of § 570.090 following a bench trial.¹ Defendant claims the trial court erred because there was insufficient evidence of Defendant’s intent to defraud and insufficient evidence of the document’s capability for effecting fraud.

Holding: AFFIRMED.

Division Two Holds: The State presented sufficient evidence that Defendant intended to commit forgery with a writing capable of effecting fraud when she presented the document showing an altered account balance to her employer.

Opinion by: Colleen Dolan, J.

Sherri B. Sullivan, P.J., and Roy L. Richter, J., concur.

Attorney for Appellant: Amanda P. Faerber

Attorney for Respondent: Karen L. Kramer
